

Stainless Steel Handcuffs with Keys

These handcuffs are made of stainless steel. They feature a pivoting mechanism and a locking mechanism and are designed for security or restraint.

Product Overview

Professional Grade Security Restraints

These stainless steel handcuffs are engineered for reliable security and restraint applications. Featuring a robust pivoting mechanism and a secure locking system, they provide durability in demanding environments. Their corrosion-resistant construction ensures longevity and consistent performance for professional use.

Technical Specifications

Primary Use

Security • Restraint

Material

Stainless Steel

Key Features

Corrosion Resistant, Pivoting Mechanism, Locking Mechanism, Durable Construction