

Steering Column Assembly

This steering column assembly is designed for automotive and industrial applications. It features mounting brackets and a central shaft for steering wheel attachment.

Product Overview

Steering Column Assembly Overview

This steering column assembly is engineered for reliable performance in automotive or industrial steering systems. It features a robust, durable black finish designed to withstand demanding environments. The unit includes multiple integrated mounting brackets for secure installation and a central shaft with a splined end for precise steering wheel attachment.

Technical Specifications

Control Compatibility

- Signal lever provisions
- Control mechanism integration

Finish	Robust black finish
Installation Features	Multiple mounting brackets, Splined shaft end

Performance Metrics

Key Performance Indicators

1 High

Steering Control Precision

1 Industrial Grade

Durability Rating