

Substation Automation System Software

This monitoring system software utilizes a cross-platform design to fully support UNIX, Linux, and Windows operating platforms. The object-oriented design is suitable for power users of the system.

