

Unshielded Twisted Pair UTP Cable

This unshielded twisted pair (UTP) cable features eight color-coded copper wires arranged in four twisted pairs. It is designed for data transmission in networking applications, providing reliable connectivity for Ethernet and other communication protocols.

