

USB Corded Telephone Handset for VoIP

This corded telephone handset connects to computers via USB. It is designed for VoIP applications and offers a comfortable user experience.

Product Overview

USB Corded VoIP Telephone Handset

This USB corded handset is designed to bring a traditional telephone experience to modern VoIP applications. Featuring a familiar numeric keypad and integrated LCD screen, it provides a tactile and comfortable interface for making internet-based calls. The plug-and-play USB Type-A connectivity ensures effortless setup for both professional office environments and home workstations.

Technical Specifications

User Interface

- Numeric Keypad
- LCD Display Screen

Connectivity

USB Type-A

Physical Characteristics

Design

Lightweight, Portable, Corded

Usage

Suitable For

Office Use, Home Use, VoIP Communication