

Video Interphone System with Keypad and Paging

This video interphone system offers secure and convenient communication. It features a color display, keypad for access control, and integrated paging.

Overview

Professional Video Interphone System

This advanced video interphone system is engineered for secure and convenient communication in both residential and commercial environments. It features a high-resolution color display, an integrated keypad for reliable access control, and built-in paging functionality. Designed to streamline entry management, this system offers a robust solution for modern security needs.

Key Features

System Capabilities

- Integrated Video Communication
- Secure Keypad Access Control
- Built-in Paging Functionality
- High-Resolution Color Display

Applications

Suitable Environments

Residential Security, Commercial Access Control, Office Intercom Systems