

Vintage Flat Screen Television

This is a vintage television with a flat screen display. It features a silver-tone bezel, textured side panels, and a black frame around the screen.

Product Overview

Vintage Aesthetic Meets Functional Design

This vintage flat screen television offers a classic aesthetic that bridges the gap between retro design and functional display needs. Featuring a distinct silver-tone bezel with textured side panels, the unit includes integrated speakers and front-facing ports for easy access. Its multi-system capability and digital control make it a unique piece for specialized professional displays or vintage-themed installations.
