

Wooden Forming Mould

This mould is made from light-colored wood strips in a butcher block style. It is suitable for shaping or forming materials with a square or rectangular shape.

Product Overview

Professional Grade Forming Mould

This butcher block style forming mould is constructed from high-quality light-colored wood strips, meticulously joined to create a solid and rigid structure. Designed for industrial or precision crafting applications, it offers a smooth, even surface essential for consistent material shaping. Its robust construction ensures durability and reliability for various forming processes.

Construction Details

Construction Style	Butcher block
Material	Light-colored wood
Assembly	Multi-piece joined construction

Key Features

Surface Quality	Smooth • Even
Form Factor	Square, Rectangular